Fee Disclosure Statement for Participants of the Enterprise 24x7 Inc 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan & Trust

Overview

As a participant in the retirement plan sponsored by your employer, you are entitled to know the fees and expenses incurred to operate the plan that are paid by participant assets. The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), requires that the plan administrator provide the disclosures of these fees to you, on or before the date you can first direct your investments, and annually thereafter.

The disclosure of fees is intended to make you aware of the rights and responsibilities associated with the options made available under the plan so that you may make informed decisions regarding the management of your account.

The types of information that must be disclosed are both plan-related and investment-related. Plan-related information includes general operational and identifying information, administrative expenses, and individual expenses. Investment-related information is included on a separate chart which details the fee information of the investment alternatives made available by the plan.

Part One: General Plan Information

Enrollment
Participants and beneficiaries may enroll and make investment changes at any time once eligible to participate in the plan. This may be done by enrolling via the internet, using a voice response system, or by completing an Enrollment/Change Form and either faxing or mailing it to Paychex.

Plan Investment Changes
There are no limitations on the frequency of when investment changes may be made; however, there may be fees associated with such changes. Review the attached Investment Chart or the fund's prospectus for additional information.

Voting of Proxy
The plan administrator shall have responsibility for instructing the trustee as to voting and the tendering of shares relating to assets held by the trust, by proxy or in person, except to the extent such responsibility is delegated to another person, under the terms of the plan or under an agreement between the adopting employer and an investment manager, in which case such persons shall have such responsibility.

Part Two: Administrative Expenses

Administrative expenses for such duties as recordkeeping, accounting, tax form preparation, and legal fees may be paid by the employer or by the plan. Your employer also has the option to be reimbursed by the plan for expenses they have paid. Fees paid with plan assets will be deducted pro-rata based on account balances and specified on your quarterly participant benefit statement as a plan administration expense.

Paychex charges administrative fees for the services provided to the plan which may be paid either by your employer or by plan assets. In the event your employer elects to have fees paid by plan assets the fees will be deducted pro-rata based on the account balances and will be specified on your quarterly participant benefit statement as Plan Administration Fee. Paychex administrative expenses include monthly fees, per participant fees, setup fees, and, when an employer selects specific service offerings or other features, an annual account fee which is charged against plan assets.

A one-time plan document restatement fee of $400 may be paid by the employer or by the plan. Restatement fees paid with plan assets will be deducted pro-rata based on account balances and specified on your quarterly participant benefit statement.

In the event that the employer decides to transfer the plan's recordkeeping services to a new service provider, there may be a plan transfer fee charged for services associated with the transfer process. The employer has the option to pay the expense with plan assets. If the expense is paid by the plan, it will be deducted on a pro-rata basis from all account balances, and the portion applied to your account will be reflected on your quarterly participant benefit statement.

The actual fee(s) for administrative expenses assessed against your account will be specified on your quarterly participant benefit statement.

Section I. Performance Information

The Variable Return Investments table focuses on the performance of investment options that do not have a fixed or stated rate of return. This table shows how these options have performed over time and allows you to compare them with an appropriate benchmark for the same time periods. Past performance does not guarantee how the investment option will perform in the future. Your investment in these options could lose money. Information about an option's principal risks is available on the Web site(s).

Section II. Fee and Expense Information

The Fees and Expenses table shows fee and expense information for the investment options listed in the Variable Return Investments table. It lists the Total Annual Operating Expenses of the options in the Variable Return Investments table. Total Annual Operating Expenses are expenses that reduce the rate of return of the investment option. This table also shows Shareholder-Type Fees. These fees are in addition to Total Annual Operating Expenses. A portion of the expense ratio may be returned to Paychex or its subsidiaries in the form of revenue sharing.

The cumulative effect of fees and expenses can substantially reduce the growth of your retirement savings. Visit the Department of Labor's Web site for an example showing the long-term effect of fees and expenses at http://www.dol.gov/ebsa/publications/undrstndgrtrmnt.html. Fees and expenses are only one of many factors to consider when you decide to invest in an option. You may also want to think about whether an investment in a particular option, along with your other investments, will help you achieve your financial goals.
